It's already underway! Code red: As of Jan. 8, 2024, Stranger Things is officially back in production. And as of July 15, 2024—the eight-year anniversary of Stranger Things Season 1 — Season 5 is halfway through filming.

The fifth and final season of “Stranger things” will debut in 2025, Netflix announced on Wednesday. To celebrate Nov. 6, 1983, as known as “Stranger Things Day” — the day Will Byers (Noah Schnapp) was abducted into the Upside Down — the streamer also released a video revealing the titles for the final eight episodes, which will conclude the supernatural story of Hawkins, Indiana.

The story is set in the 1980s.
